Subscription Category Please see the website or call the Law Library for full subscription details or a quote.

We begin our subscription year on January 1 each year. Current subscribers are billed at the end of the prior year for annual fees. Any subscribers who have not renewed their subscriptions by March 1 are suspended. Subscribers who join the Law Library outside of the regular subscription renewal period (from December 1 - February 28) will have a subscription year that begins on the date that they subscribe to the law library. This fee is non-refundable.

If you would like a quote for a firm subscription, please contact the Law Library and we will provide your subscription rate based on the number of participants. Note that a firm subscription requires 100% firm participation.

* The first year rate is available only to lawyers in their first year after passing the bar exam.

 A firm subscription entitles every employee of the firm to use the Law Library and its resources, including remote access. Firm subscriber benefits require 100% firm subscription. For example, a firm with 16 attorneys pays 16x$55=$880. Firm subscriptions may not be prorated for less than 100% subscription.

 Individual lawyers at firms (firms that are not subscribers) receive all benefits of the Law Library except remote access.

* Non-lawyer subscribers not affiliated with corporations or firms receive all of the benefits of lawyer subscribers.

¹100% firms have a firm subscription, which provides subscription benefits to all professionals at the firm, including paralegals and other staff. An individual at a firm can also be a subscriber, but with fewer privileges, particularly no off-site access to legal information databases.

² Remote access is governed by individual contracts with publishers. Therefore, each resource has slightly different restrictions.

Services and Resources

The Hamilton County Law Library is a subscription library, open to the public, with additional services specifically designed for its subscribers and court and county officials. Extend the reach of your law practice by becoming a subscriber today and taking advantage of the professional services and extensive print and digital collection available at the Law Library.

Why Join?

The cost of legal research materials continues to skyrocket and your firm needs to be more selective in what it keeps. You can access electronic resources 24 hours a day through the Law Library, borrow current and historic print materials without having to buy them, and receive professional service and document delivery from our staff.
